

They read your page, want to call you,
then go back to Google.

Your record is not the problem. Neither is your Vietnamese, which almost no other Boston firm has. What is missing is the last few inches between someone wanting to hire you and actually reaching you. Here is what I found, what it costs to fix, and what I would leave exactly as it is.

WHAT I FOUND

Twelve things costing you clients.

Getting found

- Someone searching for a criminal lawyer in Boston will not find you. Your page is titled "Lawyertruong" instead of what you do.
- Someone searching in Vietnamese will not find you either. Both languages sit on one web address, so Google only ever sees one of them.
- Where you do come up, you rank lower than you should. Old copies of pages are still live, competing with the real ones.
- Your twenty-two years of standing is split in half. The site answers on two addresses and Google treats them as two sites.

First impression

- You read as smaller and newer than you are. The colours do not hold together across the page.
- People lose attention before they reach what they came for. The homepage is a wall of text.
- Nobody is asked to get in touch. The only buttons on your pages switch language. Nothing else invites a call.

- Someone convinced by your record has nowhere to go. The homepage reads like a biography, not a page built to get a call.
- A new client has no reason to trust you yet. You have 4.4 stars from 29 Google reviews, and not one of them appears on your site.
- Your practice pages explain the law, not why to call you. The auto accident page describes tort law and contingency fees. It never says Boston, never says Vietnamese, and never mentions you.
- Your best story is a picture nobody can read. The Boston Globe piece on your journey from Vietnam is a scan of a newspaper page. Unreadable on a phone, invisible to Google.
- People give up before finishing your form. It sits on another page and asks for six things, including a home address.

Speed, phone display and where your form actually goes need a look at the code. That is the first thing I do.

TWO OPTIONS

Pick the scope.

Both are one-time, at half my usual rate. Not retainers.

Both start with discovery

- Understand your goals and where you are heading.
- Understand your clients.
- Then build each page to do a job, not just list what you offer.

Your brand guide is yours to keep, and useful long after the site is done. Use it for whatever you make next: flyers, posters, presentations, ads. Hand it to a printer, a designer or an AI tool and it will all match.

PACKAGE A

Foundation

Somewhere to click, and something to find.

$1,250 ~~$2,500~~ 50% OFF

- Easy to reach you: call, message, email or form, never more than two clicks away.
- A shorter form, cut back to what you actually need.
- Your 6 pages rebuilt: Home, Services, Biography, News, Video, Contact. Both languages. Nothing dropped.
- News and press you can add to yourself. Your four existing items brought across, and no waiting on me for the next one. Two ways in:
 - Log in and add it, the same as any website.
 - Or describe it to Claude or ChatGPT and it publishes in both languages.
- One consistent look, built from your own seal, so you read as a serious firm.
- Your record up front: the Globe, Chronicle and your years as a prosecutor, where people see them. The Globe piece typed out as real text, so people and Google can finally read it.
- Found in Google: real page titles, old copies cleared out, one address, your Google listing corrected.
- Found in Vietnamese too, not only in English.
- One month of Website Care included.

PACKAGE B • RECOMMENDED

Bilingual Practice System

Everything above, plus every practice page rewritten and a form that answers for you.

$2,000 ~~$4,000~~ 50% OFF

Everything in A, plus:

- Every practice page rewritten to bring in clients: Criminal, Immigration, Real Estate, Family, Injury, Business, in both languages. You already have these pages. Right now they explain the law. They should answer what people actually type into Google, and say why they should call you. Roughly double the work in Package A.
- A form that answers for you: someone writes in and gets a reply straight away in their own language. You get an email and a text so you can follow up, at any hour. Junk is filtered out, and each month you get a summary of who got in touch. The firm that answers first usually gets the case. Included here, not an add-on.
 - Free option: every enquiry lands in one sheet you can open on your phone.
 - Paid option: a small monthly cost, worth it if you want more of this later.
- Answers to what people ask before they call: cost, how long it takes, what happens at arraignment. Both languages. Set up so you appear in AI search, so when someone asks ChatGPT for a Vietnamese lawyer in Boston, your name comes up.

4 weeks to build

30 days support after launch

- Your 4.4 stars shown on the site, where people decide.

- Two months of Website Care included, not one.

4-5 weeks to build

60 days support after launch

TERMS

PAYMENT

Half to start, half at launch. One-time. No retainer.

COMMUNICATION

Kept to a minimum. Most of the work does not need you. I send a short form when I need something; fill it in when it suits. No calls needed until handover.

SCOPE

Page counts are estimates, agreed with you before building starts, then fixed.

Writing for the pages I build is included. Posts you publish after launch are yours to write.

OWNERSHIP

Domain, hosting and every account stay in your name. Leave any time.

I will need collaborator access or a login while the work is running, so the new site can be moved across.

TIMELINE

4 weeks for A, 4-5 for B, from deposit.

WHY NOT FASTER

I have been writing code for seven years. I do use AI, and it is part of why the price is reasonable, but AI does not make a site secure, and it does not decide what each page has to do to bring you clients. That part is mine.

That is why this takes four weeks, not four days. What you get is not a generic AI template.

WHY HALF PRICE

You are my Boston legal case study.

In exchange: a testimonial, and permission to show the work.

AFTER LAUNCH

Optional, either way.

None of this is in the price above. The site is yours outright.

LOOKING AFTER THE SITE · 3 MONTHS MINIMUM

PLAN	PRICE	WHAT YOU GET
Technical	$39/mo	I watch the site: it stays up, the forms work, everything stays patched. No content changes.
Website	$129/mo	The above, plus 1 hour of changes a month, either language.
Growth	$269/mo	The above, plus 2 hours a month and a check every quarter on what is working, with changes made based on the traffic.
Hourly	$125/hr	Changes on request, one hour minimum. No plan needed.

Hours do not roll over. On a plan your time works out to $90 an hour against $125 without one. One month of Website Care comes with Package A, two months with Package B.

ADD-ON

Never miss a call

Missed calls and late-night messages get an instant text back in the right language, with a link to book you.

~~$499~~ $249 to set up as a founding client, then $79/mo.

ADD - ON

Ongoing SEO

The setup is already in your build, so this is not the same thing twice. This is the work that follows: new articles each month, keeping Google and the AI assistants up to date on you, and watching what other Boston firms are ranking for. Both languages.

$485/mo as a founding client for the first year, then $969. Three months minimum.

THANK YOU

Thank you for reading this far.

Your seal says Voice of the Voiceless. Everything above is about making sure the people who need that voice can find you when they search, and reach you when they do. Nothing more than that.

Whatever you decide, the findings are yours to keep, and if they are things your current provider can handle, that is a good outcome. If you would like to talk any of it through, I am one chat away.
